There are places in this world where the millennial secrets of mankind are revealed to those with the curiosity to look, and where the beauty of Mother Nature is always on display for those who are willing to seek. Join us as we explore the ancient wonders of the Kimberley and the timeless enchantments of Indonesia.

Travel deeper

Wild and remote with eons of primordial history, the Kimberley is one of the ultimate destinations for passionate explorers, while Indonesia's extraordinary beauty continues to captivate the imagination of all.

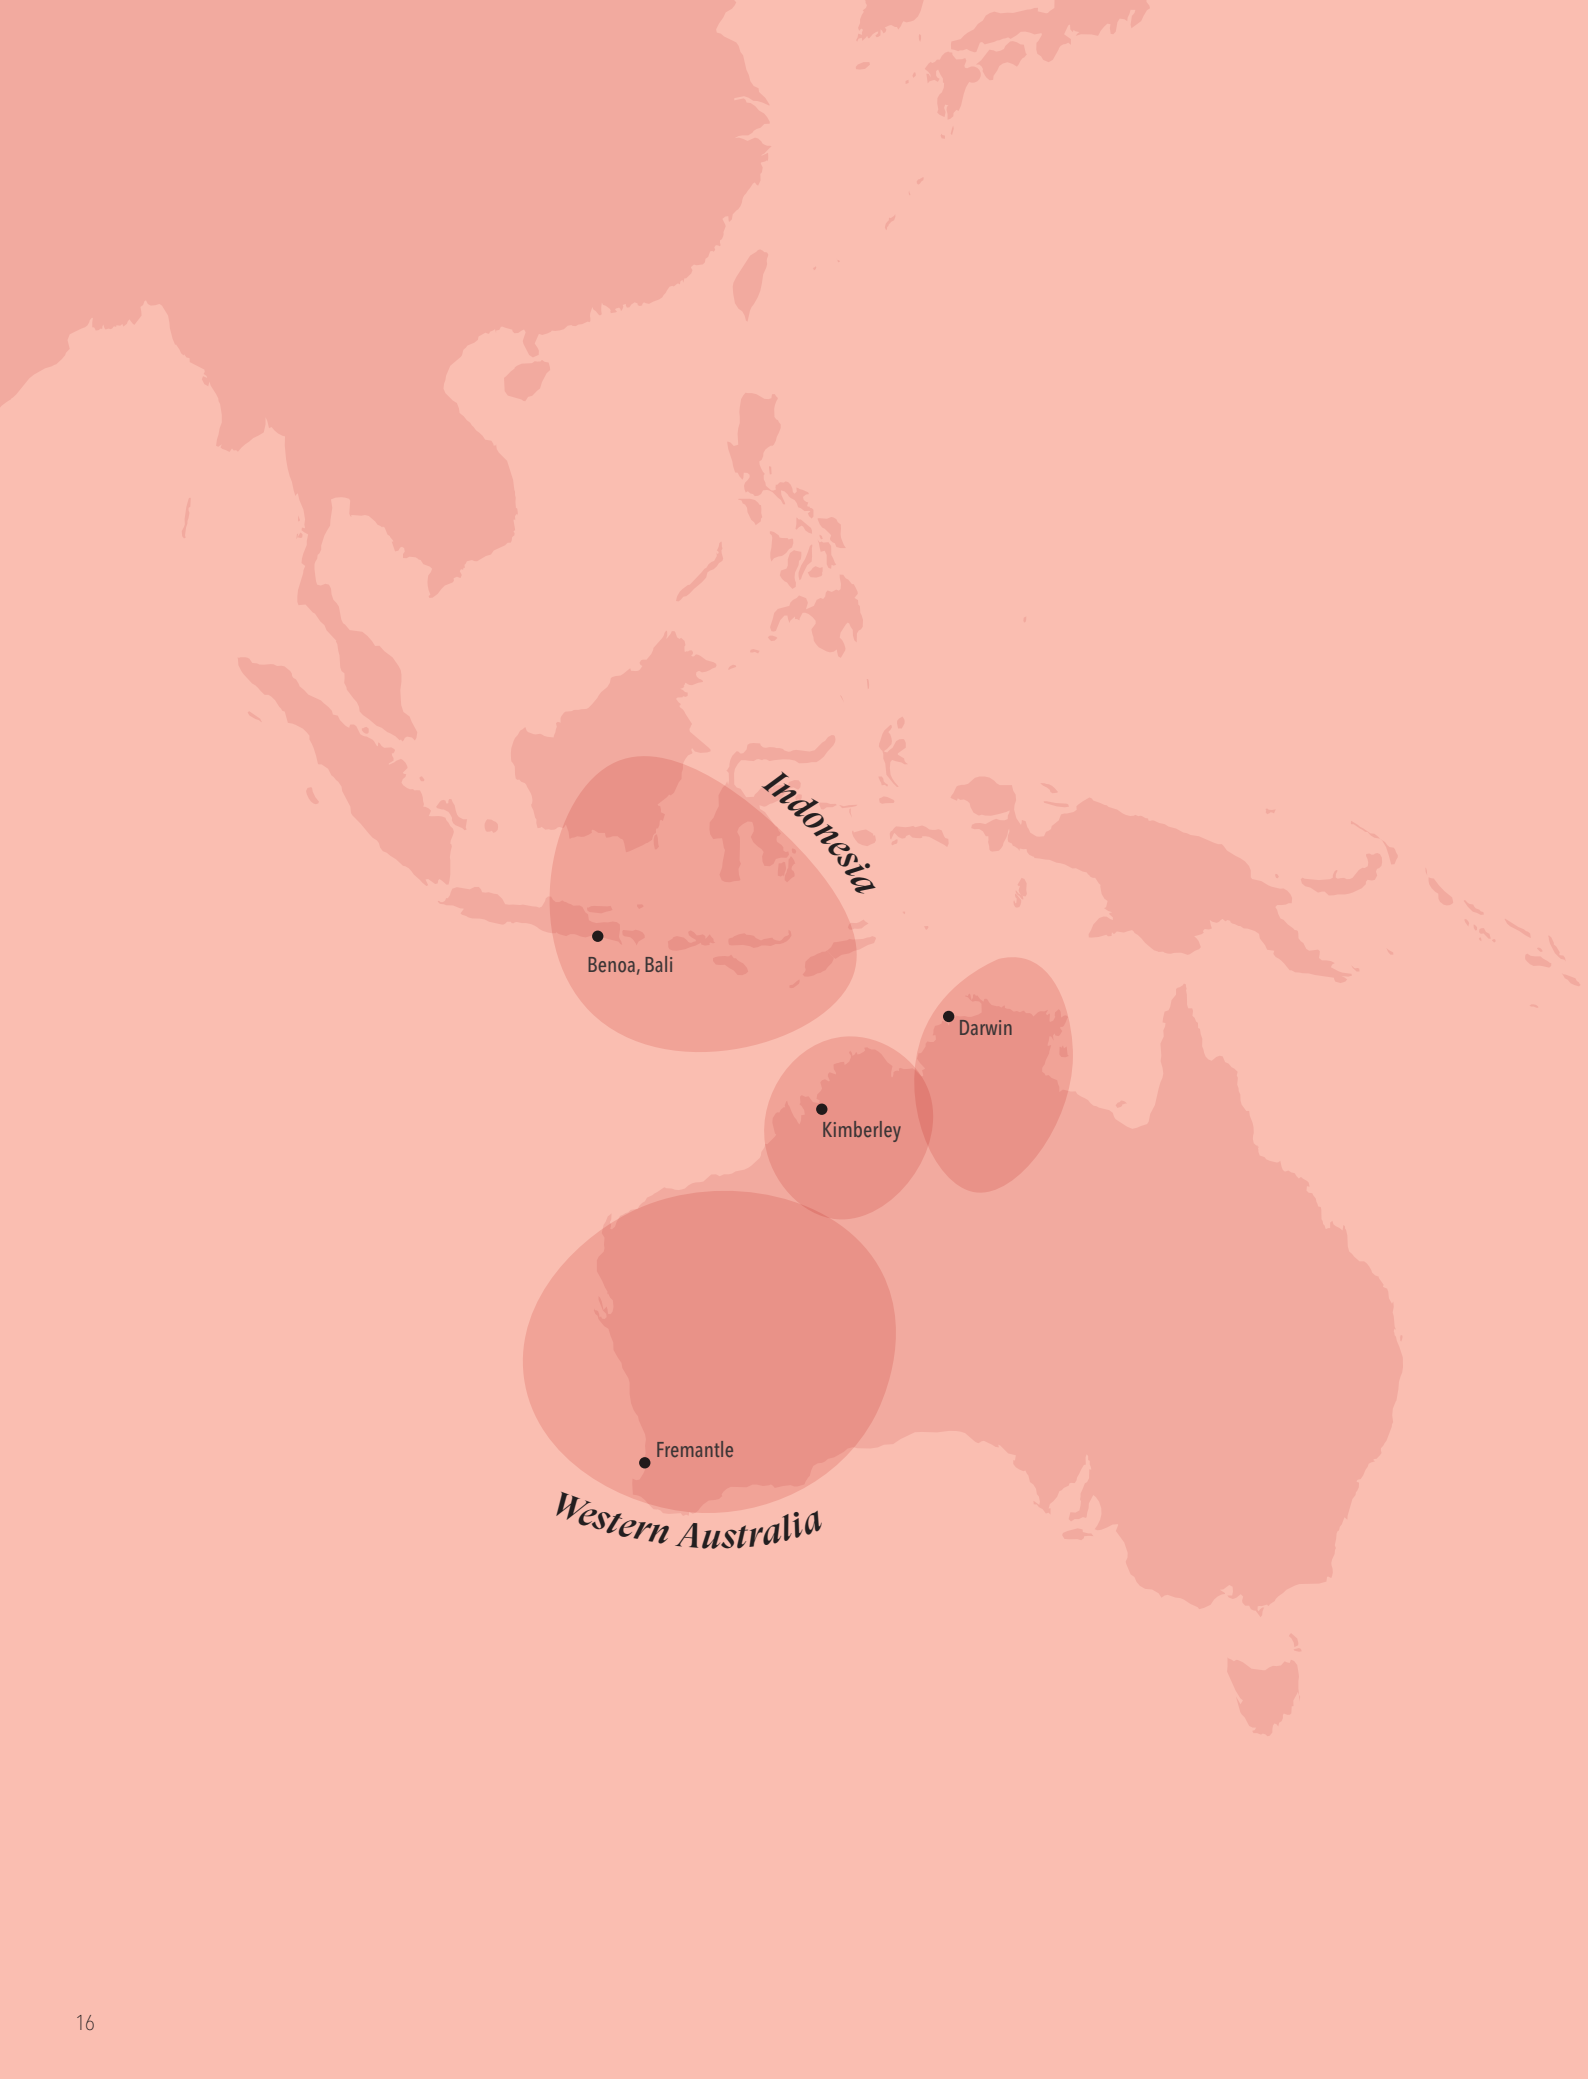

Commanding a vast expanse in the northwestern reaches of Australia, the Kimberley reigns as a mesmerising wilderness of striking contrasts, where pristine white beaches are greeted by a turquoise sea and golden rays of sunshine dance on pindan-red cliffs. Inland, the fascinating landscapes reveal ancient caves etched with rock art, gorges carved by millennia and logic-defying waterfalls. A Silversea expedition into this land largely untouched by time offers an intimate understanding of indigenous cultures and up-close encounters with unique wildlife.

Arching over Australia's northern shore like a bejewelled crown, the lushly jungled volcanic peaks of Indonesia dot the cerulean waters of marine-rich seas. Here in some of the most diverse ecosystems on Earth, you'll find vibrant coral reefs ringing little-explored islands and legendary dragons inhabiting ancient landscapes. Whether trekking through rainforests, exploring hidden bays or relaxing on pink-sand beaches, these remote locales offer a deeper connection to nature's untamed beauty and the rich traditions of island life.

Only Silversea takes you into the heart of the Kimberley and Indonesia in extraordinary, seamless comfort. Join us for a voyage into the unforgettable.

THE KIMBERLEY

On the remote northwestern shores of Australia, a vast and rugged landscape of untamed beauty – wild coasts, gorges, waterfalls and more – reveals ancient secrets and indigenous cultures.

NORTHERN TERRITORY

Australia's Top End is where a frontier Outback wilderness of ancient rock formations meets the majestic wetlands of Kakadu National Park, home to crocodiles, birdlife and waterfalls.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Scattered off the western shores of Oz are myriad archipelagos laced with shimmering reefs, marine parks and a kaleidoscope of wildlife; an area often referred to as Australia's Galápagos.

INDONESIAN ARCHIPELAGO

From rose-coloured sands and vibrant coral reefs to legendary dragons and extraordinary wildlife, these remote islands are a tapestry of breathtaking beauty and intriguing cultures.

Immersive expedition experiences

In-depth and up-close discovery

Delving into the heart of remote destinations on intimate, small-group excursions is a signature hallmark of Silversea Expeditions. With an unmatched ratio of experts-per-guest, highly personalised activities allow you to get close to the wilderness, the wildlife and the unique cultures that define a region. Whether exploring the Kimberley by Zodiac®, kayaking and snorkelling the waters of Indonesia, or embarking on intimate hikes in both destinations, our Expedition Team draws upon long-standing relationships to showcase the nuanced wonders of the world with exceptional insight. Best of all, each of these immersive experiences is included with your voyage; the only thing you need to bring is your curiosity.

ZODIAC ADVENTURES

With 24 Zodiacs on board, Silver Cloud has one of the highest Zodiac-to-guest ratios in the Kimberley. This allows us to host all guests on excursions at the same time – a key point of differentiation as the opportunities for discovery often have short time frames due to tidal activity or scheduling constraints. We are also able to offer a wider variety of Zodiac adventures, tailoring activities to individual interests and capabilities.

KAYAKING AND SNORKELLING

Given that Indonesia is in the heart of the Coral Triangle – an area in the western Pacific Ocean often called "the Amazon of the seas" owing to its incredible marine biodiversity – you can expect dazzling displays of Technicolor wonders both above and below the waterline. The waters of the Savu and Flores seas are home to whales, dolphins and dugongs, more than 500 species of coral and a kaleidoscope of fish.

HIKING EXCURSIONS

There's nothing like feeling millions of years of history beneath your feet as you set foot on ancient lands where few have ever been before. From exploring Mitchell Falls in the Kimberley's Hunter River Region to trekking the ridge of Pulau Satonda in Indonesia, you'll gain a deep appreciation for the unique flora and fauna as you hike up, over and through some of the most ancient and remote landscapes in the world.

ENGAGING LECTURES

Your Expedition Team leads daily briefings and recaps about each destination, providing insightful information about the geology, geography, history and wildlife of the regions you'll visit. More conversational than instructional, each expert shares his or her unique perspective, giving you a broad understanding of each destination's natural and cultural life from past to present, and opening your eyes to new perspectives.

Expeditions with more expertise

Personalised, destination-specific guidance at every step

Each Silversea expedition comprises a unique team of naturalists and eco-science specialists whose talent in their respective fields is exceeded only by their passion for sharing their knowledge with you. With up to 10 qualified specialists and an expert filmmaker on each expedition – among the highest personnel-to-guest ratios in expedition cruising – they represent some of the industry's most seasoned experts, from biologists, ornithologists and geologists to professionals in history, ecology and photography. Each is closely attuned to the cues of wildlife, ensuring your discovery of the Kimberley is intimately personal and extraordinarily revealing.

Note: The roster of expedition team members changes with each itinerary; please contact us for detailed information about your specific voyage.

Secrets of the Kimberley and Indonesia

From ancient coast to cradle of biodiversity

For the ardent explorer, an expedition into the Kimberley ranks high on every wish list. And for those with an insatiable curiosity for the unknown, discovery of this remote part of the world is equally as compelling. Add the exotic wonders of Indonesia to your sojourn – its mesmerising coral reefs, fascinating wildlife and indigenous cultures – and consider this your invitation to delve into the secrets of two of the most intriguing places on Earth on a revealing expedition with Silversea.

Among the earliest settled regions of Australia, the Kimberley is also one of the country's least known. Here is where ancient landscapes whisper tales of time immemorial; where Aboriginal rock art some 17,000 years old is carved into sandstone and shale; and where some of the most fascinating geological wonders still reign – from the Bungle Bungle Range rising majestically from the plains to the towering waterfalls of King George River. Offshore lie thousands of eco-rich islands home to extraordinary birdlife including the Buccaneer Archipelago, Ashmore Reef Marine Park and more.

Journey beyond the Kimberley to discover the many riches of Indonesia, from Pulau Semau's untouched beaches and the crystal-clear waters of Bau-Bau to the rich culture of Alor and the vibrant markets and traditional Toraja villages of Palopo, where time seems to stand still. Join us.

The Kimberley: enchanting and timeless

A truly legendary coast of wonders

No matter where you find yourself in the Kimberley, magical landscapes and ancient wonders appear at every turn. Wild and remote with a storied history, here is a land the size of France that has been untouched by humans other than the ancient rock art carved into cave walls thousands of years ago. This nearly impenetrable region rewards devoted adventurers with sparkling horizontal waterfalls, steep gorges and canyons, ancient mangrove forests and soaring red cliffs. Wildlife and wilderness abound, and no two journeys are ever the same. Travel with us into a land that time forgot but that you'll remember forever.

MITCHELL FALLS

Waterfalls don't usually go on for hundreds of metres, at least not lengthwise. Kimberley's remote Mitchell Falls splash down in four separate tiers for a cumulative drop of over 80 metres (more than 260 feet). Carved into sandstone over millions of years, they've created an impressive series of shimmering emerald water pools. As the river tumbles from one fall to the next, you can almost feel the primordial rhythm of this ancient land.

HORIZONTAL FALLS

Famed natural historian David Attenborough once described these falls as the "Eighth Natural Wonder of the World." The unique natural phenomenon yields horizontal waterfalls that seem to ebb and flow with the tide; reefs and islands appear, only to disappear again right before your very eyes, for an ever-changing waterscape that reminds us of the incredible power the moon has over our experiences here on Earth every day.

MONTGOMERY REEF

Covering some 300 km² (116 mi²) to surround Yawajaba Island completely, this is the world's largest inland coral reef. Extremely biologically diverse, its wonder is revealed at low tide as the entire reef slowly emerges from the sea with water cascading down from the reef top. As you gaze upon the abundance of fascinating wild flora and fauna, you'll be enthralled by the way nature creates, and recreates, this magical disappearing act.

WANDJINA & BRADSHAW ROCK ART

Stored away for millennia in the red sandstone caves that line the shores here, more than 100,000 rock art paintings are estimated to exist in the area. A series of mysterious indigenous Wandjina paintings are said to depict the ancient spirits who created the waterways, mountains and wildlife of Kimberley. Nearby, the Bradshaw – or Gwion Gwion – rock art paintings grace the walls of several other caves, created in a clearly different style.

Indonesia: exotic and mysterious

A magnificent haven of biodiversity

Journey deep into the remote isles of Indonesia to islands unknown by many yet bursting with incredible beauty and welcoming hospitality. Come dive into Alor's pristine waters, where vibrant coral reefs teem with marine life, and explore ancient villages that echo with timeless traditions. Walk on Komodo Island's Pink Beach, where the sands blush under the sun's kiss, and let your spirit soar as you witness the majestic Komodo dragons in their natural habitat. Here, where lush mountains meet the sea, every sunrise brings promise of new discoveries, and every sunset is a masterpiece painted just for you.

PALOPO, SULAWESI

This highland region is home to lush rice terraces, misty mountains and an ancient settlement called Tana Toraja famous for its macabre culture. Among the most famous sights are the cliffside graves, seemingly protected by a row of eerie Tau-Tau statues staring down at you upon arrival. You can see a collection of tongkonan (Toraja traditional houses) with a cave cemetery, and megalithic stones that were used as grave site headstones.

PINK BEACH, KOMODO ISLAND

Small flecks of red coral mixed in with the fine white reef sand earned Pink Beach its name as the shore appears to have a rosy hue in certain light. With its protected reef, this stretch of coast makes a fine place to relax or enjoy a snorkel in the crystal-clear waters; you might spot a striped clown fish nestled among the protective tentacles of its sea anemone host, or see a grouper lazily swimming by a flamboyant soft coral.

BAU-BAU, BUTON ISLAND

Known for its market culture and stunning ikat weavings, this friendly fishing village extends a traditional warm welcome to visitors immediately upon arrival. Many come here to explore the largest fort in Indonesia – the unusual Buton Palace Fortress (Benteng Keraton) built by a sultan in the 16th century. Here you can enjoy a cultural performance and savour culinary specialties.

PULAU SEMAU

This exotic haven of deserted beaches is known for its vast expanses of pure-white sand, where green coconut groves slope lazily towards the crystal-clear turquoise waters. Here you can savour the island's fresh watermelon and mango, take a swim in the gentle offshore waves or go snorkelling amidst a world of tropical fish and coral reefs. You might choose to ascend the heights of Liman Hill for stunning views of this tranquil island.

Voyage highlights:

- Adele Island – A hotspot for breeding birds and turtles and a nursery for young humpback whales and bottlenose dolphins, the sandy beaches and gorgeous tidal lagoon found here stand in remarkable contrast to the Kimberley’s rugged coast.
- Horizontal Falls – Located in Talbot Bay in the Buccaneer Archipelago, this unique marine phenomenon is created by powerful tidal currents pushing through narrow coastal gorges.
- Freshwater Cove – A rare experience that few will ever know; here Aboriginal hosts extend a traditional welcome before sharing stories of their ancestors and rock art at this special place known locally as Wijingarra Butt Butt.
- King George River – Depart Koolama Bay by Zodiac to navigate the near-vertical rock formations enroute to the magnificent twin cascades of King George Falls, among the highest in Australia.
- Hunter River Region (Kimberley) – Gateway to the famed four-tiered Mitchell Falls, the immense mangrove system found here is home to numerous bird species and the infamous saltwater crocodile.

Waterfalls and rock art galore

Set sail from Darwin, gateway to the jungled waterways and lush rainforests of Australia's Top End, bound for your immersive Kimberley adventure. Koolama Bay welcomes you with a Zodiac excursion to the King George Falls where saltwater crocodiles lurk below and giant raptors like the Brahminy kite soar above. A call at Swift Bay leads to a hike across the wild landscape where historic caves are etched with Gwion Gwion and Wandjina rock art. Look for curlew sandpipers, bar-tailed godwits and great knots on a birding excursion along Ashmore Reef, and spot sea turtles, lesser frigates and brown boobies on Adele Island. Witness the speed of the 12-metre tidal rushes in the Buccaneer Archipelago, a phenomenon matched only by the cascading waterfalls on display at Montgomery Reef. Arriving at Hunter River, you're greeted by soaring red sandstone cliffs that stand sentinel over immense mangroves interlaced with narrow channels – home to mudskippers, fiddler crabs, saltwater crocodiles and the iconic Mitchell Falls; explore here on hikes, Zodiac excursions and helicopter adventures. There is more indigenous rock art to see on Jar Island, said to be the home of a giant sea spirit who made the water salty for marine animals. Returning to Darwin for an overnight stay, you'll be tempted to venture inland to explore Kakadu National Park or the birding haven of George Brown Darwin Botanic Gardens.

Into the realm of crocodiles and dragons

Here is a voyage of contrasting wilderness, from the Kimberley's striking red coast where towering cliffs rise up from turquoise seas to Indonesia's lush islands ringed with spectacular reefs and marine-rich waters. This odyssey delves into the earliest expressions of mankind and Mother Nature that are singularly unique to the Kimberley: indigenous rock art etched into caves on Jar Island, and rock formations depicting spiritual ancestors at Freshwater Cove; the twin cascades of King George Falls, the four-tiered waterfalls of the Hunter River, and the rushing waters of Montgomery Reef. A day or two at sea prepares your senses for the scent of jungle rains, the taste of fresh rambutan fruit and the sight of endless blue seas dotted with jagged peaks of green. This is Indonesia, where Komodo Island intrigues with its namesake dragons and pink sand beaches and Bali enchants with its terraced rice fields and emblematic temples. Beyond the mesmerising beauty of Pulau Semau, Palopo Sulawesi leads you to the land of Toraja and its mysterious traditions, Bau-Bau presents the Butan Palace Fortress, and Kupang rewards with cultural immersion in the village of Baun, once the centre of the Amarasi Kingdom (1615 to 1962). Pack your spirit of adventure and join us on this incredible journey of discovery.

Voyage highlights:

- Lacepedes Islands – Often called Australia’s Galápagos, this A-class nature reserve is paradise for bird lovers – its brown booby colony may be the largest on the planet.
- Dampier Archipelago – A biodiversity hotspot rife with coral reefs, sponge gardens and seagrass meadows make these waters ideal for snorkelling; four turtle species are found here.
- Montebello Islands – Home to the endangered Mala (Rufous Hare-Wallaby) and the Djoongari (Shark Bay Mouse), this marine park boasts 150 species of hard coral, 450 species of fish and 170 species of echinoderms (sea-stars, -cucumbers and -urchins).
- North Muiron Island – Part of the UNESCO-listed Ningaloo Coast, this is where warm waters of Indian Ocean collide with the cooler seas of the West Australian Current to form a biological hotspot of incredible diversity.
- Abrolhos Islands – This extraordinary home to seabirds (including the only colony of Australian Lesser Noddy and two million Wedge-tailed Shearwaters), coral reefs, bearded dragons and wallabies belies a difficult history of shipwrecks and sordid tales.

*Marine wilderness,
UNESCO treasures
and rock art*

Follow the arc from the Kimberley to Western Australia and discover an eclectic melange of fascinating archipelagos, sandy spits and rugged coasts. Yes, there are blissful beaches to be found on this expedition between Darwin and Perth, but it's the draw of rare wildlife and the intrigue of indigenous cultures that truly piques the curiosities of the most passionate adventurers. An overnight in the Abrolhos Islands balances ignoble history – a shipwreck, mutiny, murder and survival – with incredible nature such as a diverse coral reef and waters friendly to sea lions, rock lobsters and myriad birds from terns and noddies to shearwaters. Visit Shark Bay to take in the impressive array of marine life (and those blissful beaches!) and North Muiron

Island for exceptional snorkelling – both are UNESCO-listed gems. The Montebello Islands captivate with their corals and sea turtles, and the Dampier Archipelago boasts reefs, sponge gardens and seagrass meadows home to flatback and hawksbill turtles, ospreys and sea eagles, and more. As your journey takes you closer to the Kimberley Coast, the Lacepedes Islands emerge – an A-Class nature reserve often called "Australia's Galápagos" owing to its exceptional wildlife such as the endangered green turtle. Soon you'll explore the primeval rock art and natural wonders of the Kimberley, including the dazzling waterfalls of the King George and Hunter rivers and Montgomery Reef.
